

Hop on the Stair Car!

Hop-ons are always a problem with the stair car. Each person got on a step, one at each place in order! Who's driving this thing anyway?

- Bob Loblaw ended up eight steps below Helen Maria Delgado. Helen Maria Delgado was exactly one step below Carl Weathers.
- The first hop-on boarded at the Banana Stand. The first hop-on is not the person that parked on the eighth step.
- Barry Zuckercorn did not board at the Banana Stand, and he was not the person on the highest step (the eleventh).
- The person that boarded at Bluth Company Offices was exactly one step higher than the person that boarded at the Courthouse.
- Carl Weathers boarded at Tantamount Studios, just before the person that boarded at North Roast Coffee.
- Buster Bluth did not board first, nor did he board at the courthouse. Helen Maria Delgado did not board last.
- The person who boarded second, who was not Bob Loblaw, boarded at the Bluth Company Offices.
- The person that boarded at the banana stand did not take the second or third step.
- The person on the eleventh step boarded fourth. Buster Bluth was not the last to board.
