THE CHOCOLATE ROOM

"Welcome to the heart of my factory, the Chocolate Room! In we go! But do be careful, my dear children!" warns Mr. Wonka. "Don't lose your heads! We had a slight incident earlier this morning with a nasty Hornswoggler, and now there are large holes scattered about the floor and in the river pipes. Here, take this map to help you navigate the room," cautions Mr. Wonka as he hands you a copy of a grid. "I haven't quite had time to finish it yet, but I'm sure you're bright enough to figure it out! Just find the path from Start to Finish while avoiding the Holes. And don't try to go through the River, just take the Bridge over it!"

This story's main child character (7,6)	Opening to a sewer (7)	Author of "I Hate Everyone... Starting with Me" (4,6)	Close end to a race (5,6)	Opposite of horizontally (10)	Written messages (7)	Sink putt in first shot (4,2,3)
Playwright behind "The Importance of Being Earnest" (5,5)	Sell to retailers (9)	Prominent Mexican muralist married to Frida Kahlo (5,6)	1976 De Niro crime drama (4,6)	Bacterial disease spread in water (7)	Western defense org. (4)	Tunnel in space-time, or damage to an apple (8)
This story's author (5,4)	Reserve or hire in advance, or a written manuscript (4)	Term for a formal name, like duke or dame (5)	Summer Glau role (5,3)	Non-credited actor (5)	Whoopi's tic-tac-toe show Hollywood ___ (7)	Montague family's star-crossed lover (5)
Crowdfunding website (11)	Artery-clogging substance (11)	Word used to describe a noun (9)	Drink made with orange juice and vodka (11)	1957 Guinness and Holden movie with "The" (6,2,3,5,4)	Schwarzenegger former spouse (5,7)	Prefix meaning 1000 (4)
West African country with capital Freetown (6,5)	Surprise up one's sleeve, trump Card (3,2,3,4)	Pivot 180 degrees in the military, with "face/turn" (5)	Belonging to actor Franco or President Madison (5)	Official state fruit of Georgia (5)	Archie Andrew's hometown (9)	Legal escape route (8)

What can Mr. Wonka use to solve his problem? ☐☐☐☐☐ 🌉 ☐☐☐☐☐