

Answer Sheet

Welcome to Puzzled Pint!

Tonight your packet contains four puzzles. Each puzzle will somehow solve to a short word or phrase. If you're joining us for the first time tonight, please read our Puzzling Basics page by going to <http://www.puzzledpint.com/basics> or by scanning the QR code. Note the "How to solve" section that discusses puzzle techniques like indexing and using the code sheet, which should have been provided to you along with your packet.

Puzzling
Basics

Puzzled Pint is not a competitive event. We encourage you to ask Game Control (GC) for hints as often as you'd like. Our goal is for you to have fun, not to be frustrated! While we like to theme our puzzle sets, our puzzles do not require special knowledge of the theme to solve. Nonetheless, you are allowed to use the internet for general knowledge queries when solving, if needed. When you've solved all four puzzles, confirm your answers with GC, and you'll get the final metapuzzle, which requires the previous puzzle answers to solve. When you're all finished, please return this answer sheet to Game Control, along with your code sheet and any borrowed items like pencils, tape, or scissors. Returning your answer sheet with an accurate count of your team size will allow us to make sure that we have enough space for everyone at our venues in future months and that we have enough puzzle packets available. Additionally, you'll be able to see how your time ranks relative to other teams worldwide on our web site.

Thanks, and we sincerely hope you enjoy your evening! – Puzzled Pint GC

Puzzled Pint

Puzzled Pint Maps accept no responsibility for anyone that decides to use a map given to them by some bloke in a pub as a means for navigation in the real world. Apologies to Alaska and Hawaii for not being included on the map, apologies to all other states for being included on the map. Any misrepresentation is entirely accidental, except for when it has been done deliberately. Nothing in this box is a puzzle.

The Route

“Are you sure we’re on the right Highway?” Ian asked.
 “Of course,” I replied, “I drew the map myself.”
 “Do you know which roads to take? There’s so many. Perhaps I should navigate?”
 “Come off it Ian!” I scoffed. “You got lost in the town square! I’ve looked at all possible routes, these are the only rational choices.”
 “Which town? Names are important, you know!” cried Ian, “Besides, I traced my way back eventually.”
 “I guess ‘not all those who wander are lost!’” Smirked Terry, but Ian didn’t seem to get the reference.
 Oliver started searching for something in the back of the van.
 “What’s up mate? What are you looking for?” Usain asked.
 “I’m looking for something we need on our road trip.”
 “Can’t you just chill out and enjoy the music?” Neil asked, a little irritated.
 “The music’s not important right now! It was the only things in this box! How am I going to enjoy a brew without it?”

The Map

“This map is awful!” Neil complained. “Since when have there been mountains in Kansas? Did you draw this with your eyes shut?!”
 “Are you saying I don’t have the map-maker’s touch?” I replied.
 “It’ll be a relief to get to the motel,” moaned Neil, “I hate having to do this in the dark.”
 “Just read the map!” I told him. “I’ve a feeling you’ll see just how much of a cartographer I am! This’ll get us to the motel with ease!”

Road trip Journal Part 3: Cocktails

In L.A. we went for a pub crawl with a twist. We left the car at the motel, flagged down a taxi and made our way to Hollywood. Standard pub crawl rules applied, except that, in addition, each one of us would have to find a pair of stars on the Walk of Fame, and design a cocktail in their honour.

Oliver Reynolds mixed up CRUEL HAITI SANGRIA for the singer that knows 'What A Girl Wants' and MAMA MID-HULA for a former heavyweight boxing champion.

Usain Thomson created GLASS 'N' RICE for the magician noted for their 'Mindfreak' TV series and RICH'S NEON DOLL for the actor that played Batman's counterpart, Robin.

Ian Atkinson concocted OIL AND DENIM for a singer-songwriter famous for 'Sweet Caroline' and 'Cracklin' Rosie' and ELFISH UNDERTAKER for a 'Lost Boy'.

Morris Outhwaite shook up HAIRY OLD REV for Stan Laurel's comedy partner and INSULT OR ORGASM for a famous jazz trumpeter.

Terry Nolan blended RESTYLE PERM in honor of the legendary actor that has won three Academy Awards for her roles, and LOSING ADRENALIN for the actor most famous for her role in a '90s sci-fi show.

Neil Johnson's cocktails were RAZOR-THIN LEECH, for the South African born actor famous for her roles as Aileen Wuornos and Furiosa and DUELLING TOKEN, for the band leader and jazz legend for whom Stevie Wonder wrote a song in tribute.

After each member of the party had pointed out their drinks' merits it signalled the end of the night.

"Initially I thought this was a capital idea," slurred Morris, "but now I'm in a right state."

Road trip Journal Part 4: The Casino

We had to play some poker in Vegas.

The final hand was epic, even though nobody was dealt a pair in hand.

One player, first to fold, before even the flop had been dealt, was not happy.

“That’s the worst possible hand in Hold ‘Em!” He grumbled, oblivious to poker etiquette.

The card in Oliver’s right hand had given him a pair on the flop, but he ended up folding before the river.

Ian folded 4th, having chased an inside straight that he’d seen on the flop, though he didn’t get so much as a pair.

Terry had two pair with the turn card, and thought his luck was in.

The third player to fold, his luck having run its course, had a queen in his left hand.

Neil folded next after Usain, refusing to chase an inside straight any further.

Morris won the pot.

“I really want to know what you had!” Oliver pleaded.

“Sorry,” said Morris, “you all folded! But I’ll tell you this: once I saw the river I knew I could blow you off the map!”

What hands did the players fold? And what did Morris contribute to the road trip?
