Familiar Faces

When our adventure begins, The Doctor is just relaxing watching a movie. As the opening credits roll, he knows something has affected the time stream! The first name, Savage Tony, should actually be the great Oscar Wilde.

Below are names of some of the most famous actors and actresses from Earth, but they've also been changed in a similar manner. Set them right to figure out who the Doctor should invite into the T.A.R.D.I.S. to help find the cause of all this!

Fifth Doctor (Peter Davison, 1981-1984)

Sacrificed himself by using the only dose of the Spectrox Toxamea antidote to save Peri's life instead of his own. He died to the disease.

Sixth Doctor (Colin Baker, 1984-1986)

Arrogant, dramatic, self-absorbed,
driven and stubborn, this Doctor died due to an overdose of chroniton radiation.

*I've got an Ood
feeling about this...*

The Ood are such a visually surprising race that they would make hipsters jealous. Happily, they are not so snobby and are usually helpful. In order to not give you an overwhelming task, the Ood are testing you to see if you are ready to face this new challenge. If you can't see the answer, you'll need to look at things from a different angle, incidentally, at the end of this challenge.

Puzzle by Adam H. (Austin, TX)

Seventh Doctor (Sylvester McCoy, 1987-1989)
This 'sad clown' liked to speak in Dundrearyisms like "a bird in the hand keeps the Doctor away." He died during open heart surgery in San Francisco.

Eighth Doctor (Paul McGann, 1996)
This effortlessly charming, romantic doctor died in a crash landing on Karn.

Bad Wolf

Rose Tyler's message "BAD WOLF" has repeated itself and is showing up seemingly everywhere. As the T.A.R.D.I.S. races past the Pleiades, bringing the Doctor to Earth, he watches the seas, continents, and wonders of the world come into view. He knows he will need to find the patterns in the message if he is to discover the location at which he must finally end.

Ninth Doctor (Christopher Eccleston, 2005)
This more gritty and grounded Doctor died of cellular degeneration due to overexposure to time vortex energy.

Tenth Doctor (David Tennant, 2005-2010)
After refusing to die once, after being shot by a Dalek, and simply using up a regeneration, it was intentional exposure to radiation in order to save Wilfred Mott that killed this Doctor.

Eleventh Doctor
(Matt Smith, 2010-2013)
Known for his bow-tie and the occasional fez, this Doctor enjoyed having a relationship in reverse with his wife, River Song.

River Song
Professor of Archeology. Part Time-Lord. Convicted of the Doctor's Murder. Married to the Doctor. Likes to say "Spoilers!" when he asks about his future. Died saving the Doctor's life.

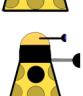

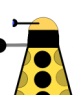

Time Loops

Puzzle by Neal T. (Austin, TX)

The war between the Time Lords and the Daleks has ripped apart the fabric of space-time itself. Instead of one continuous loop, time has broken into two parallel loops. You'll ultimately need help from a companion to set things right.

Cut out the two strips along the dotted lines, then fold each in half along the long edge to form two two-sided strips. Tape each strip to itself to form two loops. Start by intercepting the message the Daleks are sending to each other across the timelines, then ask if the doctor is really spinning through the time vortex randomly or not!

99	99	99	109	109	97	97	105	105	105	104	104	105	105	105

Who am I?

The doctor stares into the time vortex and detects the presence of an entity within. He questions it to determine its identity.

Use your answers from the previous four puzzles to find the entity's responses, then reexamine all 20 to figure out to whom the Doctor speaks.

Note: The answer is not only from the show and is not on your puzzle sheets.
