

“Into the YouTubes” by Sean G. (Bay Area - Peninsula)

TV is still better than the Internet! You know why? Because when you’re watching television, your programming choices are limited! You don’t have to pick through this entire crazy forest of random content. I mean, I go in looking for one thing, but then I have to ignore all the other irrelevant distracting videos. How do I control this player anyway? It’s making my head spin.

All the noise makes me want to use a four-letter word... “ _ _ _ _ !”

How to navigate:

1. Travel forward in a straight line, collecting letters as you go. BUT...
2. ...ignore any letters that do not look right-side up.
3. When you collect a letter on an arrow, rotate the page until the arrow points up, then continue traveling forward.
4. Sometimes you will have a choice of arrows. Choose wisely!
