

A Transatlantic Flight SOLUTION

The focus of A Transatlantic Flight is the similarities and differences between American and British English.

Each of the pictures in this puzzle have different words in American English and British English. Each of the two grids needs to be filled in using words from one side of the Atlantic – with the title of the puzzle indicating which side of the Atlantic we're dealing with for that page.

When filled in, the red squares read: ALABAMA and WEST MIDLANDS. The answer to the puzzle is a city that connects both places: BIRMINGHAM.

And, in great timing, this appeared in the UK news the day before Puzzled Pint...
<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2537961/Couple-booked-bargain-flight-Birmingham-Caribbean-turned-away-ALABAMA.html>

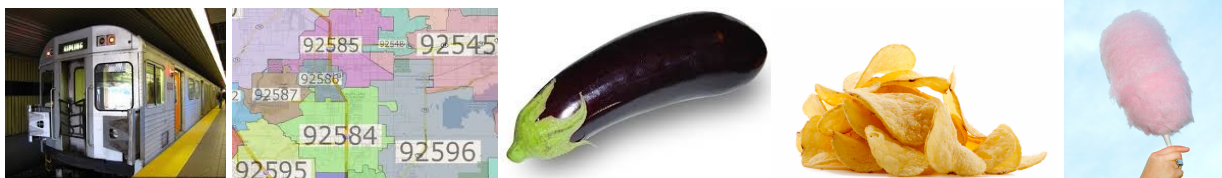

Football / Soccer, Roundabout / Traffic Circle, Chips / Fries, Dummy / Pacifier, Mobile / Cell

Pavement / Sidewalk, Braces / Suspenders, Pneumatic Drill / Jackhammer, Trolley / Cart, Draughts / Checkers

Anticlockwise / Counter Clockwise, Petrol / Gas, Bum Bag / Fanny Pack, Waistcoat / Vest, Courgette / Zucchini

Underground / Subway, Post code / Zip code, Aubergine / Eggplant, Crisps / Chips, Candy Floss / Cotton Candy

Author: Dan Peake (London)