

A magic stone sat at the very top of Flower Fruit Mountain, where it marinated in celestial energy for thousands of years. One fateful day, a monkey burst out of the stone! This monkey was Sun Wukong, who would go on to become the Monkey King. When he joined the other monkeys on Flower Fruit Mountain, they noticed how unusually powerful he was. Monkeys often have food on their minds, but today, they're also thinking about Sun Wukong. Decode their conversations to figure out how they felt when they first saw Sun Wukong!

Did you see him burst out of the rock! _____ me how he got so powerful!

I feel he deserves a round of _____-ause for that.

Seems like there _____ to him that meets the eye!

He's also quite _____-some too.

I'm his number one _____!

_____ even know the half of it. I heard he has magical powers!

What are we waiting for? _____ go talk to him!

Food items shown: apple, radishes, cherry, dumplings, eggplant, jelly, garlic, salmon, ice cream, kiwi, lettuce, mango, flatbread, orange, potato, omelette, chocolate, s'mores, tomato, noodles, vanilla, watermelon, dumplings, yogurt, cucumber.

Monkey Illustration by Renju Hu