

Near my table, my wayward student, I am here to teach you the way of the cards.

As a first lesson, I present the major arcana, to assess your powers of divination.

These are not the standard images, depicting the fool's adventure, but they may speak to you all the same.

Observe their images: Each element forms the card, and each card holds a piece of a greater narrative.

